Oxford Centre for Islamic Studies

Visiting Fellowships

2027 - 2028

The Oxford Centre for Islamic Studies promotes excellence in the study of Islam and Muslim societies. Applications are invited for Visiting Fellowships tenable at the Centre for the academic year commencing October 2027.

Three Visiting Fellowships are offered to support research in any area that has relevance to the study of Islam and the Muslim world, particularly anthropology, economics, geography, history, international relations, law, literature, philosophy, politics, religion, sociology, and science and society.

Applicants would normally be established academics.

The Visiting Fellowship provides a stipend of £10,000, intended as a supplementary award, which may be held in conjunction with other research grants, stipends, or sabbatical salaries. Visiting Fellows will be provided with working space, membership of the Common Room including lunches and dinners when served, and assistance with finding residential accommodation.

Visiting Fellows are expected to devote their time to research and writing and to participate in the Centre's academic activities.
